

ASSYRIA AS A TOOL

September 12, 2011

Susanna Seersgate:

Lord, may I ask a question?

King Jesus:

Ask Me your question, Susanna.

Susanna Seersgate:

I was reading in Isaiah how You used Assyria as a tool to carry out Your will concerning those who made You angry. Would You still do that today? Let's say You know of a group of people who are continually rebellious because it is ingrained in them. Would You cause them to rebel because You already know what's in their heart to do? I am not saying You are evil, but just as in king Ahab's death, You asked who would go and carry out Your will to destroy him. And a lying spirit said he would do this by speaking lies through those prophets so they would encourage Ahab to go to war so he would be destroyed. And if a group of people, in Your eyes, are ingrained with rebellion, would You do the same thing, so to speak, and call out and see who would do Your will to have them removed? And in this case, it is a removal because of rebellion. Lord, please hear my heart on this. I have been thinking about this for a few days now since You said that ministry that was removed had rebellion deeply ingrained within, and You knew they would do this again, where they rebelled. Please show me Your will in this. Is this Your thought, or should I no longer embrace this, where I let it go?

King Jesus:

Susanna, I use many different tools to perform My will, to carry out My ultimate plan. When I know someone will not follow My will, where they release those areas that cause them to sin against Me, it prevents Me from doing My will through that individual or nation. Sometimes I will allow that person or nation to do their will so that My ultimate plan can come to pass. If that individual or nation chooses not to move in My will for them, I move My will to one who will embrace My will. And there are tools I will use to carry out My will. And this is what you are beginning to see. If I give a group of people a few chances to get in line with My will, and I see they will not, then I have to remove them because they will, in turn, try to prevent Me from doing My will. Nothing can stop Me. But to make sure they don't hinder My will, I have to use those tools similar to what was mentioned to carry out My will. As with this ministry you are referring to: rebellion was deeply ingrained, where they didn't know how else to live; it was embedded from their inception when they first gathered as a group of believers. Their leaders walked in rebellion, wanting to do their own will, and to say they could survive under a governing authority would not have been the case. They had to come and drink from Me and give Me this issue within their lives—all of it. But most of them didn't even think they had this deep issue. They thought they were pushing their will against a human when I told them to do My will. And so I just needed them to do their will and think they were rebelling against man so I could remove them permanently. I knew they wouldn't give this to Me, where they turned to Me from their heart, so I allowed them to follow their will so I could remove them to continue My will.

Susanna Seersgate:

That makes sense, Lord. You already knew that they would not turn to You from their heart, even though You would have wanted them to be a part of this great work.

King Jesus:

Yes, Susanna. It wasn't My will for them to remove My will where they were under this great Covering. But I could not allow this sin to remain; it would have affected this work as a whole.

Many will think you are too mean, too hard, where you are doing My will. They would rather have lukewarmness or allow sin to reign. But this is great power, and sin cannot be in My great presence. I would consume them with this level of sin against Me. I know you will lay hands on those who are in some form of sin and sickness and disease of the spirit. I know this. But it's different when they do not want this, where they do not want to release their will to do My will. I will not make another will to suit those who want to live their own way. My will is perfect. My will is just. I have a good plan for all mankind, but many choose their own will, and they don't think anything is wrong with how they can serve Satan while saying they serve Me. There can only be one God. I AM the One True God, and no one can take My will, where they replace it with their will, because My will, will surely come to pass, regardless. And yes, your "spirit man" can be affected by sin. And it is because one can choose to go back in sin. This turning away from Me affects the spirit as well. Just as the spirit within a person is dead before they come to Christ, their spirit can be affected by sinful deeds to the point where I turn them over to their sinful way, where they are no longer Mine. And their love for Me will grow cold, where I am no longer first in their lives nor their hearts or will. I must always be the One who is first within those who call themselves My people. If they truly are My children, they would do My will. They would embrace My will and not rebel continually as in your example. This is for others to see as they serve Me. I will not allow a person's will to supersede My will. And if one takes hold of their will and does not embrace My will, I would give them their will, where they are removed from My will so that My will, will, in turn, be given to another so that it will surely come to pass.
